Topic: The Comeback is always stronger than the Setbacks

Vanessa Maldonado, a proud mother to her 8-year-old daughter Audrey Blair Demoya, was born in Bridgeport, Connecticut on September 18, 1995. At the age of 4, she moved to Salem, Massachusetts, where she attended Salem Public Schools. During her high school years, she met Dr. Stem, who had a profound impact on her life and helped shape her into the woman she is today. Vanessa graduated from Salem High in 2014 and continued her education at Salem State University where she majored and graduated with a degree in sociology, and minor in English. She currently works at Salem High School.
